

Credibility and relevance in project management

- The Project Management Institute (PMI®) Global Accreditation Center for Project Management (GAC) has accredited Capella's BS-IT and MS-IT Project Management specializations, making Capella one of fewer than two dozen institutions worldwide to offer university-level programs with this prestigious accreditation.

- Capella offers a breadth of project management specializations, including 3 business-track specializations at the BS, MBA, and PhD levels, and 3 IT-track specializations at the BS, MS, and PhD levels. Capella also offers a graduate-level certificate in project management.
- Your PMP® Certification, work experience, and other industry certifications may help you earn your degree in less time through Capella's competency-based Prior Learning Assessment for our MS, MBA, and BS programs¹.
- Our MS, MBA, and BS project management curriculum is designed around *A Guide to the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK® Guide). Our PhD project management curriculum offers outcomes validated by subject matter experts in project management, using topics in leading project management journals, research conferences, and PMI research projects.
- As a Registered Education Provider of PMI, Capella offers more than 25 courses approved by PMI for Professional Development Units (PDUs).

¹Residents of Washington may receive credit through our prior learning assessment only in the BS and MBA programs.
