

What does flexible education mean at Capella?

We know the importance of flexibility. That's why we offer two learning formats for our students. Depending on how you learn and your lifestyle, you can choose the learning format that works best for you.

If you want the most flexibility, our FlexPath learning format lets you learn on your own time and from wherever you choose. FlexPath allows you to create your own schedule and finish a course at your own pace, and move onto the next one when you're ready. This is especially helpful for students who need to fit school around other commitments like work and family.

For other students, our GuidedPath learning format may be a better fit. Course schedules are planned in advance, but you decide when to study and how to manage coursework. You'll follow a preset weekly schedule and connect with faculty and other students on a regular basis to help you stay on track.

No matter your situation, we've got flexible options to help you earn your degree.
